

Annual Graduate Smoker To Be Held In Ballroom Of Union Tomorrow Night

Address By Chancellor Beatty Followed By Reply Of Major General McNaughton — McGill Conservatorium Orchestra To Render Selections — Skill Of Gymnastic Club Will Be Proven In Display — Present Season Tickets For Football Games

THE ANNUAL SMOKER of the Graduate Society of McGill University at which E. W. Beatty, Esq., B.A., LL.D., K.C., will be the chief speaker, will be held tomorrow evening at 8:15 in the ballroom of the Union. A buffet supper will be served in the smoking room and the billiard rooms on the second floor.

The admission will be fifty cents for graduates and twenty-five for undergraduates. The reply to the Chancellor will be made by Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton M.S.C. 12. Mr. G. Mc L. Pitts, President of the Montreal Branch will be in the chair.

As last year, those who are in their graduating year are especially welcome. The first item on the program will be a rendering of musical selections by the McGill Conservatorium Orchestra under the direction of Mr. R. de H. Tupper. "Hall, Alma Mater" will follow, with an introduction by the chairman.

Gymnastic Display

An entertaining feature will be a gymnastic display by the McGill Gymnastic Club, by which the skill of Hay Finlay's proteges will be demonstrated. A distribution of cigarettes, donated by W. C. Macdonald Ltd., will follow. The McGill Glee Club will contribute to the zest of the evening with song selections under the leadership of L. C. Theobald.

This will be followed by the address by the Chancellor, E. W. Beatty. Major General A. G. L. McNaughton Vice President of the Graduates Society, will reply. This will be followed by a second rendering of musical selections by the McGill Conservatorium Orchestra.

Remarks By Halpenny

Next G. W. Halpenny B.Sc. President of the Student Society will make a few remarks. Everyone is requested to join in the singing of college songs by the McGill Glee Club. The words will be shown on the screen. Jimmy Rice will render a selection of songs reminiscent of "old times," with Willie Eckstein at the piano.

"People We Meet" is the title given to a set of caricatures shown on the screen, with descriptive remarks by Col. Wilfred Bovey, B.A.

Season Tickets

There will be a presentation of season tickets for football games, two pairs to be drawn for, from the tickets of those present. The entertainment will conclude with "God Save the King" by the McGill Conservatorium Orchestra and McGill Glee Club.

The graduates are requested not to smoke until after the gymnastic display. Judging from last year's graduate smoker, the affair promises to be a great success.

The Conservatorium Orchestra Revived

Next Appearance To Be At Graduate Smoker Tomorrow

Student participation in musical events on the campus has reached a new peak this year with many organizations reporting very active progress and worthwhile accomplishment. The Conservatorium String Orchestra is one such group, which has been particularly successful in its efforts recently, and has been promised a very active season.

TimeLimit Extended In Snapshot Contest

Editors Of Annual Offer Money Prizes For Pictures

Extension of the time limit for entries to the prize competition for photographs for the Campus Life section of Old McGill '34 was announced last night by Arthur Thurston, photographic editor. Both the original negatives or prints may be submitted, he stated.

Prizes this year are as follows: First $5.00 and an annual; second, $3.00; and third, an annual. The photographs submitted should have some bearing on student life and are especially acceptable if they include portraits of well known students on the campus. Exceptional photography is by no means an essential attribute of a prize winner, the primary feature being human interest.

Literary Oddities In Nineteenth Century Topic Of Address

Many Difficulties Of Biographer Pointed Out To Audience

W. WERRY SPEAKS

Subjects Of Lecture Led Checkered And Unusual Careers

Famous eccentrics in English literature, Lafcadio Hearn, Herman Melville, Henry Thoreau, George Gissing and Samuel Butler, were the subject of an address by Wilfred Werry at a meeting of the St. James' Literary Society, last night in the Engineering Institute on Mansfield street. The speaker pointed out that he considered these authors eccentric from the point of view of their biographies and not necessarily in character.

The speaker gave a brief resume of the difficulties experienced by a biographer, such as the expurgation of letters of famous men by their sensitive relations, conflicting accounts of their lives and the tendency of many biographies to emphasize the sex life of their subject in preference to any other consideration. As an example of this, speaker Werry cited the biography of Poe written by an eminent American professor which explained the attitude of all his writings by the fact that he was impotent which sundry letters prove was most decidedly not the case. In spite of all these obstacles, however, biography is an absorbing pastime, and a good deal of interesting data can be gathered.

Lafcadio Hearn

Lafcadio Hearn was born on an island off Greece, of a Greek mother and an Irish father. Shortly after this the family moved back to Ireland. Lafcadio's mother objected to this, quarrelled with his father and went home. The child was brought up in an atmosphere of turmoil and discontent. He was sent to a Jesuit College, whence he was expelled, owing to his rather sensual tendencies. Hearn migrated to the United States, where he became a journalist in Connecticut. He married a negro woman who was kind to him, and was forced by local legislation to move to New Orleans.

Here he did translation of French Classics, and this was the cause of his rather florid style in his earlier writings, which were mainly about South Sea Island adventure. His next move was to Japan, whence he never returned. He was naturalized after marrying a native lady, and died in 1904. He was a strange, shy, but rather sensual man.

Herman Melville

Herman Melville was the son of a painfully respectable parents. His father was pompous and hypocritical, his mother cold and proud. He ran away from home, became a sailor, and consequently he was short on education. This fact is evident in his novels "Redfern" and "Typee," where his style is redundant and complicated.

Arts '36 And R.V.C. Sophs Hold Dance

Second Year Students Gather At Informal Dance Friday

Staid old Tradition, which in the past has decreed that the boys and girls of Old McGill shall have separate and distinct dances, will be dealt a severe blow this Friday night when, upon the occasion of the Varsity-McGill hockey game, the sophomores of R. V. C. and Arts will join forces in an informal dance to be held in the Royal Victoria College.

Ticket sales to date have been very encouraging and with the dance only a few days away, plans are progressing smoothly. Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. and it is expected that a large number of students will first attend the hockey game and later the dance. Jack Bain's orchestra will provide the music, and those intending to come to the dance are reminded that they must bring their red and white ribbons.

Those coming in parties of more than four are requested to give their table reservations to a member of the committee, whose names appear below, or to leave them in Locker 75 of the Arts Building. Mrs. Vaughan and Dr. and Mrs. David A. Keys will be the patrons.

While this is primarily a second year dance, all students are welcome and tickets, at one dollar per couple, may be procured from Bert Yates Harry Grimsdale and Bill Gentleman or from any of the following: Judy Moore, Shirley Stevenson, Doug Cooper, John McDonald, Norman Brown.

Budding Plumbers Set February 13 As Date Of Ball

It has been definitely decided to hold the Plumbers' Ball on Tuesday, February 13 at the Windsor Hotel. This date should meet with the approval of all students as the following day is Ash Wednesday when all lectures will be cancelled.

The price of the tickets, which are to be on sale shortly, is $4.00 a couple. This is a reduction compared with former years but does not mean that the standard of entertainment will be lowered in any way. Arrangements have been made with the management of the hotel to reserve the first three floors for the convenience of those who desire rooms.

The orchestra has not been decided upon as yet, but tenders have been received from the best orchestras in town and it is expected that an announcement concerning the final choice of an orchestra will be made shortly.

Offer Prizes For "Hay Fever" Poster

Players' Club Give Three Awards To Contestants

MONDAY DEADLINE

Noel Coward Play Starts In Two Weeks At Moyse Hall

A crisp five dollar bill, known in gangster parlance as a "fin," negotiable anywhere in Canada for anything in value of five single dollars can find its resting place in the pocket of the fortunate one who hands in the best effort in the Players' Club current poster contest for the publicizing of "Hay Fever."

The comedy by Noel Coward is to be presented at Moyse Hall, on February 16th and 17th. The deadline for the poster contest has been set for Monday at five o'clock and all entries must be left at the Players' Club office by that time.

Realizing that not everybody can win the first prize, the executive is offering two additional prizes to the second and third best efforts received. The award to the runner-up will be four choice seats to the play on any one of the two nights desired. The third award will be a pair of tickets to the play.

All posters must contain the following information: "The McGill University Players' Club presents 'Hay Fever,' a comedy by Noel Coward, at Moyse Hall on Feb. 16th and 17th (Friday and Saturday), at 8.30 p.m. Student Rate, 55c; general admission, 75c. Tickets on sale at the box office in the McGill Union or from representatives of the ticket committee."

The entrants are of course at liberty to arrange the information as they see fit, but what has been given above is essential.

It must be remembered that the last day entries will be received is Monday at five o'clock.

Varsity Hockey Tickets

Tickets for the McGill-Varsity hockey game which will be played at the Forum on Friday next, Feb. 2, at 8:15 p.m., are now on sale in the Athletic Office in the Union. A reduction in price has been effected for this game for box and promenade seats. The complete price range follows:

Box and Promenade.....$1.00
Amphitheatre......75
Circle......50
General Admission......25

As usual student coupons will be good for this match and a reduction of 25 cents will be allowed for coupons on the purchase of reserved seats.

Band To Perform

Makes First 1934 Appearance At Varsity Game

All bandmen must be present at the Forum before eight o'clock Friday night in order to officiate at the Varsity-McGill Hockey game. As this is the Band's first public appearance since Christmas and they have been rehearsing regularly, it is expected that their performance will be an excellent one.

There will be a rehearsal for all members Saturday at two o'clock sharp in the Union Ballroom. All bandmen are requested to be present as the Musical Association Concert takes place February 13. There are only two practices before that time. Uniform at the game will consist of sweaters and caps.

C.O.T.C.'s History Ought To Be Pride Of Every Member

Lieut. Brown Outlines Activities Of Corps Since Formation

ONLY ONE IN WAR

Major Smart First Commander In 1912 — Prof. McKergow First Adjutant

"Every member of the McGill Corps must feel proud" stated Lieut. George Brown in the course of an address on the history of the McGill C.O.T.C. (148th Bn. C.E.F.) recently. Lieut. Brown sketched the history of the Unit since its foundation dealing particularly with the distinctive features of the McGill Corps which is the oldest O.T.C. outside the British Isles and the only Corps outside the British Isles with "battle honours."

The speaker began by describing conditions at the beginning of the century when undergraduates could qualify for commissions under the auspices of a Military Committee assisted by officers from headquarters. In England at this time as a result of the experience of the Boer War Lord Haldane had advised the formation of Territorial Forces and as part of the scheme had established in the principal English colleges O.T.C. to provide officers as the need arose.

In 1909 Imperial officers stationed in Canada advised the formation of such a Corps here which was done in November 1912. The first commanding officer was Major Smart then a professor at McGill now a deputy minister at Ottawa. The first adjutant was Capt. McKergow now Major, and a professor still at McGill.

At the moment war was declared, the Corps was in a fairly efficient state and stated the speaker, four days after the declaration, was drilling on the campus. Major Smart proceeded overseas and was succeeded by Major (later) Sir Auckland Geddes who was O.C. until departing for Washington where he became British Ambassador. Maj. Geddes was succeeded by Col. Robt. Starke, still of this city under whom some 6,000 men passed during the days of the war.

Into War-work

By this time McGill had thrown itself into war-work and self-batteries, hospital units and re-informing companies had all testified to the patriotism of the university. But, continued Lieut. Brown, it was felt by some that McGill should actually raise a battalion all her own and after negotiations Maj. Magee was authorized to raise the 148th Battalion C.E.F. This was in November 1915. Very soon the unit was up to strength every man being hand-picked.

Before the new year the 148th had secured the use of the old High School on Peel street where the unit stayed

Franciscan Father Will Address Club

Rev. Ethelbert Speaks At Newman Meeting Sunday

Rev. Father Ethelbert, O.F.M., of the Franciscan Monastery, Montreal, will preach at the Newman Club Mass on Sunday morning, February 4, at ten. Father Ethelbert was born in England and educated at the famous Somerset College. He studied Philosophy in Paris and Theology at the Propaganda College, in Rome.

A well known speaker at public functions, Father Ethelbert has delivered lectures all over the North American Continent. At the present time he is in charge of English speaking Franciscan activities in Montreal, an office he has held for some years past. Amongst other activities the Rector was founder of the Franciscan Review, a small pamphlet which has increasing popularity all over Canada.

Having had a long and varied experience with college men, Father Ethelbert will attempt to present a pertinent topic to members of the club at the meeting Sunday. The guest speaker at the meeting following the Mass will be the Hon. Joseph Dillon, M.L.A. His subject will be the "Rouyn Trial of Joan of Arc." Miss Margaret Healy, soprano, will be the guest artist at the Church service and the meeting which follows.

Maccabean Circle

A meeting of the Maccabean Circle will be held this Sunday afternoon in the Grill Room of the Union at 3 o'clock. Reports will be given on the dance and the Canadian Jewish Congress at which the Society was represented. The speaker for the afternoon will be announced in tomorrow's Daily.

Psychologists To Gather For First Meeting Thursday

It has been felt for some time on the campus that there is a definite need for an organization for the study of psychology. The large number of students of this science have had little opportunity to discuss recent discoveries in their field, to compare notes on contemporary work. Such researches as those of Macdougall on the inheritance of acquired psychological characteristics have in the past few months altered the outlook on an important branch of the subject.

Psychology honor students and students majoring will derive much benefit from the society meetings. The first gathering will be tomorrow at Strathcona Hall at eight o'clock when Mr. A. Bois will speak. The organizers stress the fact that all undergraduates will be welcomed. A charge of ten cents will be made for refreshments.

Mount Royal Hotel Scene Of Revelry

Large Attendance Is Expected At Popular Early Celebration

ANNUAL DENTAL BALL

Charlie Dornbergers' Orchestra Will Provide Music For Dance

Friday evening, February 8th, the main dining room of the Mount Royal Hotel will be the scene of the Annual Dental Ball, for which Charles Dornberger and his Orchestra will supply the music. To date most of the members of the faculty have signified their intention to attend, as well as a large number of recent and older graduates. Graduate dentists in Montreal and vicinity are invited by the committee to the dance.

Great care is being taken in the selection of favours and the committee is expending much time and thought to insure the success of the occasion. Dental dances of other years have set a high precedent and it is fully expected that this year's celebration will compare very favourably with former successes.

Patrons

The list of patrons includes Acting Dean and Mrs. A. L. Walsh; Dr. and Mrs. A. W. McClelland; Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Henry; Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Leahy and Dr. and Mrs. I. K. Lowry.

Tickets may be obtained from the committee which consists of Russell Ward and Hum Harris in Fourth Year; John Chalmers and Phil Glinick, third year; Ivan Guilford, second year; and Clayton Bourne and Small of First year, for the sum of five dollars. They are also on sale at the Union Truck Shop.

A large attendance is expected, not only of students but of graduates as well, and every detail is being carefully arranged to assure that a good time will be had by all. The Dance committee believes that this dance will be the most successful the dentists have held in years.

WORKSHOP PRODUCTION

There are still four male parts to be filled in the forthcoming Workshop Production. All those interested may see the Chairman in the clubroom between 2.00 and 3.00 p.m. today. All those interested in painting scenery are urged to report at the same time.

There will be a preliminary Dress Rehearsal of "Hair-Raising" on Saturday afternoon.

Club Holds Contest

Delta Sigma Features Impromptu Speaking Tomorrow

The Delta Sigma Society will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in the R.V.C. Common Room. The meeting will feature impromptu speaking and debating which will be conducted in the form of a contest. Following the custom of former meetings, the subjects, some serious and others humorous, will be discussed by the contestants who draw their topics. Prizes will be awarded to the best speakers at this gathering which is open to all who might be interested.

Lists have been posted in the Royal Victoria College and the Arts Common Room; all women desirous of entering this contest are requested to sign these lists.

Engineers Advised On Mining Reports By Local Geologist

Lecturer Is An Honorary Graduate Of McGill University

FAULTS TROUBLESOME

Books Will Help Engineering Student In Exploration Work

"A new engineer often has much exploration work." With the above warning J. A. Dresser addressed the Mining and Metallurgical Society yesterday afternoon in the Mining lecture room. A large number of students were present to hear this lecture which was entitled, "Relations between Geology and Engineering." Mr. Dresser is an ex-professor and honorary graduate of McGill University and at the present time is employed as head of the Provincial Department of Geology. Since he graduated from McGill in 1923, this man has had a colorful career.

After some work at Harvard he received his M.A. degree, and then for many years was associated with the Dominion Survey. When the Geology Division of the Quebec Bureau of Mines was formed in 1929, Mr. Dresser was named Director. His work has consisted mainly in problems relating to the mining industry and therefore he can speak with authority on the relations between geology and engineering. The address was given in a non-technical manner and Mr. Dresser told several amusing stories during the course of his lecture which were enjoyed by the audience of students.

On Location
The speaker stated that when on location and is about to make a report on a survey, he should not worry too much about minute details observed. He should not include in his report information which he has received from other sources than those in question. It is his duty to keep what he has learned from the job in one section and what he may get from outside sources in another section.

A report should indicate in a general way what the engineer has found out

Women's Vote Will Be Debaters' Topic

Shaar Hashomayim Holds Mock Parliament Next Week

"That this house approves the admission of women to public office in Canada" will be the motion debated at a Mock Parliament to be held at the Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue next Tuesday evening. The debate is being held under the auspices of the Young People's Societies of several local Synagogues, and the proceeds are to be donated to the United Talmud Torahs.

The Speaker of the House will be J. Alexander Edmonson, and the motion will be introduced by Prime Minister Samuel J. Moskovitch, who will be supported by the leader of the Feminist Party, Clarence Gross. The Opposition will be led by A. H. Zatlun, who has among his cohorts, Max Slapack, Harold B. Lande, and Gregory Charlap. Among those who will uphold the Government on the floor will be Harry Berger and Eli Berger. It is expected that some prominent female upholder of the cause of womanhood will also be present to lend her voice to the occasion.

The meeting is being held under the joint auspices of the Young People's Societies of Shaar Hashomayim, Shaar Zion, B'nai Jacob, and Beth David. As usual, informal dancing will follow with an orchestra in attendance.

Glee Club Gathered To Rehearse Songs

Will Perform At Graduates' Smoker Tomorrow Night In Union

At last night's rehearsal of the Glee Club in the Union, it was announced that the Club would perform at the Graduates' Smoker tomorrow, before the Engineering Institute, of Canada on February 9th and at the Musical Association Concert on February 13th. Among the songs rehearsed last night were the College songs, the "Jolly Good Ale," the "Shadow March," "Roche Caroline" and "Feasting I Watch."

It has definitely been decided that the Club will make a public appearance at Plattsburgh, N.Y., on March 23rd. Louis C. Theobald and Ralph M. Carmichael conducted last night's rehearsal.

Red Hockey Squad Out To Clinch First Place Tonight

McGill And Lowly Vics Meet In Second Game

Redmen Play Again Friday Night As Toronto Comes Here For Opening Game Of Intercollegiate Series — Farquharson And Farmer Out To Boost Point Averages In League Scoring Race — Senior Group President Banishes Several Amateur Stars

FIRST PLACE in the Senior Group standing will become the permanent property of the Redmen for the rest of the season if they can emerge from tonight match with even a tie against Frank Carlin's Vics. Already Bobby Bell's gang is four and a half points to the good and, with a play-off post long ago a certainty they are aiming at first place as their immediate objective. Royals return to form over the weekend and the return of Charlie Delaney to their line-up have already had considerable effect on the fans and a McGill-Bishops series for the championship is being talked up in no uncertain style.

Vics Must Win
Both Vics and St. Francois can kiss their play-off hopes goodbye should they fall by the wayside tonight. Should Verdun polish off the Saints in the first game and McGill take care of Vics in the nightcap the Maple Leafs will have only Lafontaine to contend with in their fight for the fourth position. The Blue-shirts have been scurrying in and around New York City for a week or so and to date have won, tied and lost in their three game series with the Atlantic Sea Gulls, while they were beaten by Baltimore. They return to the Senior Group next Sunday.

President Alois Gagnon's wholesale banishment of Senior Group players who have been playing in the outlaw league in Montreal East will no doubt be felt heavily by St. Francois and Verdun. The Saints will be without three of their regulars, Thibault, Belhumeur and St. Michel, while Verdun will not be able to use Lionel Boldau, who only last week regained the right to mix with the amateurs once again. Vics will also be short-handed as Gerard Tapin was among those who came under the Q.A.H.A. president's sweeping ruling.

Two Games Left
With only two more Senior Group tilts on their hands after tonight the Redmen will be making a determined bid for a win to clinch the top notch title and to give them their seventeenth game without defeat. With this end of the schedule so close at hand it looks as if the Royals will be the only team to threaten their record. They play Lafontaine next Wednesday night and meet Gus Ogilvie's championship hopes in the last game of the Senior Group's regular schedule, on the following Wednesday, Feb. 14.

Hollie McHugh's goal-a-game record is still plenty good enough to keep the lead in the race for goal-tending honors, with Johnny Coulter of Royals behind him.

Varsity Friday
Friday night Warren Stevens' Varsity six will make their first and only local appearance of the season in the first game in the intercollegiate home-and-home series. Their record in the Toronto circuit doesn't look any too impressive and McGill are not expected to have any difficulty in retaining their college title. Don Smillie, Skid Doyar and several others of the Blue squad have left the ranks and the hand of hockey the remainder have displayed so far has been much lower than that shown in previous years despite the fact that George Hendry and one or two others of the championship team of two years ago are still in action.

Meds Defeat Eng. In Basketball Game

IN a play-off basketball match between Med IV and Engineering IV that was featured by close competition between the two teams and by good guarding, the Savabones downed the future builders of railroads, by the score of 15 to 13. The Meds were particularly good in their guarding, affording very few chances for the other side to score, but the play was close, just the same. At half-time the score stood at 9 to 5 in favour of the Meds.

As can be seen by the line-up, the Meds were numerically superior, so that they had more energy to throw into the fray. Garcelon, Seltzer, and Williams starred in the game.

The basketball play-off between Meds, IV and Science I has been postponed to Friday, when it will be played at 5 p.m. in the Girls' Gym of the Montreal High School.

CENTER DE LUXE

NELSON CRUTCHFIELD
who has been used this year more than ever by Coach Bell, of the senior puck squad, as a battering ram to wear out opposing front lines, thereby increasing the chances of the second Red front-rank to score. "Big Crutch" likes his role very well, but he occasionally forgets himself long enough to score a couple of goals by way of a change from routine.

Elimination Bouts Feature Program For Mat Squad

Coach Saxon Pares Team Down For Interfaculty Assault

WITH the interfaculty assault a mere three days away, the wrestlers under Coach Frank Saxon are grunting even more nowadays than is their wont as they strenuously prepare for the forthcoming hostilities, which will decide the fortunate ones to represent McGill at the Intercollegiate Assault in the middle of next month at Toronto.

Once more good bantamweight and featherweight material is conspicuous by its absence, but an abundance of heavier wrestlers somewhat offsets this initial handicap. No defending champion is left to the squad, since Belli, the only successful McGill grappler last year, has not returned. Two former champions, however, are still with the team, Goffman and Lapin being once more prepared to regain their lost intercollegiate crowns.

Veterans Return
Goffman, former 145-lb. champion, is at present trying to conquer the old Bogey of flabbiness which usually attacks him about this time every year. If he can overcome this little difficulty, his really superior experience and skill should see him through this season to the title. Three men stand in his way at McGill before the ex-champ can enter the lists in Toronto; these are Doyle, Johnson, and Brookes, the latter in particular being in tip-top shape. Goffman will have his work cut out for him if he expects to figure in the Intercollegiate Assault.

Another veteran, in the person of Archie Pistreich, returned to the ring when he defends his McGill 165-lb. title. Pistreich had some pretty tough luck in his intercollegiate bout last year against a Varsity wrestler, but this season finds him eager as ever to try again. However, before the intercollegiate bouts roll around, he will have to dispose of a Macdonald man, Belanger, who is practicing assiduously in an effort to relieve Pistreich of his crown.

McLean Out
McLean, the light-heavyweight champion of McGill, will endeavor once again to represent the college in Toronto, and his experience and stamina should carry him through to victory. He is expected to give a good account of himself in the Intercollegiate Assault, since Hoskins of Queen's, who has won the title for several years running, is no longer at that institution.

Red Seconds Enter Strong Hoop Circuit

Macdonald, U. of M., Loyola And Bishops' Are Other Entries

McGILL PLAYS FIRST TILT THIS AFTERNOON

Meets Loyola At 5:00 P.M. At West Hill High School Gym

McGILL'S smart little intermediate basketball squad, already entered in the Intermediate "A" section of the Montreal Basketball League, is seeking new fields to conquer. This afternoon, the newly-formed Quebec International Intercollegiate Basketball League begins to function when the Red Seconds meet Loyola.

Intermediate Cagers
The intermediate cage team will play Loyola in the West Hill Gym this afternoon at 5 o'clock. All players are asked to report in the Montreal High Gym at 4:30 today, and if anybody is unable to come, will he get in touch with the manager, George Murray.

at the latter's home floor, West Hill High School. This new cage circuit is as yet an experiment, which, if successful, will in all probability lead to its further continuance in future years.

Five Teams
The league is composed of five teams at present, these being McGill, Loyola, University of Montreal, Bishops' College, and Macdonald. Much of the credit for the organization of the group goes to the Redmen's own coach, F. M. Van Wagner, who has been working on the idea since the beginning of last semester. Bishops' position in the league is as yet rather undefined, but proposed playing schedules will put the Easter Township squad in a class by itself—that is, the four teams in the Montreal district will play off, and the winner will meet Bishops' in a home-and-home series for the championship.

Coach Van Wagner also reports another hitch in the plans, this one being that in the event of McGill winning its section, the collegians will probably find it financially impossible to travel to Lennoxville for Bishops' home game there. It is hoped that these difficulties will iron themselves out, and that the league will be successful enough in the first year's operation to ensure its continuation in successive seasons.

Situation Strange
Another peculiar angle to the situation lies in the fact that McGill and University of Montreal are in the Intermediate "A" section of the M.B.L. This difficulty will be surmounted by the simple process of having the games in which these two squads meet in the M.B.L. count as well for the new intercollegiate circuit. Thus, these encounters will be fraught with more than ordinary significance.

The officers in the college league have been announced. They are as follows:

Chairman, Frank Lloyd Sharpe, Macdonald College; F. M. Van Wagner, McGill University; Philip LeSage, University of Montreal; Father Hawkins, Loyola College; O. Rollit, Bishops' University.

The schedule:
Wednesday, Jan. 31—McGill at Loyola.
Friday, Feb. 9—U. of M. at McGill.
Monday, Feb. 12—Macdonald at Loyola.
Thursday, Feb. 15—U. of M. at Macdonald.
Wednesday, Feb. 21—Macdonald at U. of M.
Wednesday, Feb. 28—Loyola at U. of M.
Saturday, March 3—Loyola at Macdonald.
Wednesday, March 7—U. of M. at Loyola.
Wednesday, March 7—Macdonald at McGill.
Wednesday, March 14—McGill at U. of M.
Wednesday, March 21—Loyola at McGill.
Saturday, March 24—McGill at Macdonald.

not yet been announced, but the following men are urged to attend:

- 135 lbs: Perry, Beecher, MacLennan, Lazarovitch, Monk, Gilmer and Abrahams.
- 145 lbs: Doyle, Goffman, Johnson, Brookes.
- 155 lbs: Billingsley, Nutik, Ashkenase, Webb.
- 165 lbs: Pistreich, Rowen, Kazakoff, Duncan, Belanger.
- 175 lbs: McLean, Atkin, Longley.

BISHOPS' COACH

HARRY GRIFFITHS
who starred for McGill senior, football and intermediate hockey teams only two years ago, and who now confines his athletic activities to master-minding his Bishops' pucksters from the bench.

CLASS BASKETBALL
A round-robin system of play-offs to decide the class championships is being run off this week. The schedule is as follows:
Wednesday, Girls' Gym, 6 p.m.—Med. I vs. Med. III.
Friday, Girls' Gym, 6 p.m.—Med. III vs. Med. IV.
Friday, Girls' Gym, 5 p.m.—Eng. IV vs. Sc. I.

Boxing Card For This Week Holds Promising Interest

Boxing Card For This Week Holds Interesting Promise

DISCIPLES of the manly art of self-defence — and they are legion, despite the carplings of critics who take pleasure in fault-finding — will be able to indulge to their heart's content, for elimination bouts are being held tomorrow. From the names on the card there is ample hope for the belief that bouts will be interesting and the decisions close. As there will be no fights at the Graduates' Smoker that is to be held tomorrow, the winners this week will contest the finals of the respective divisions at the inter-faculty meet on Saturday.

Brenhouse, one of the combatants, is a graduate in Economics. Doubtless much occupied with the many intricate problems of this mundane world, there is likelihood that he does not pay as much attention as before to the practice of boxing, so that he will have to look out for his laurels, for in Savage he has a doughty opponent. The card promises to be a good one and should please those to whom a well-placed, well-timed upcut is as music to the ears.

The card:
118 lbs—Watson vs. Stewart.
Caron bye.
125 lbs—Black vs. Wolfrey.
Cushing vs. Yancey.
Hollingsworth bye.

TEAM MANAGERS

All team managers must arrange with Rice Studios immediately for the taking of a team picture for the annual. A write-up consisting of 275-300 words must also be prepared and handed in at the Tuck Shop for the Sports Editor of the Annual. If for any reason this cannot be done, a note stating the reason must be left at the Tuck Shop.

MACDONALD'S HOCKEYISTS

There will be a play-off between the winner of the inter-faculty hockey league and the Macdonald team. Arrangements will be made later in the season.

League-Leading Redmen Meet Lennoxville Lads This Afternoon

FORMER MCGILL STAR IS VISITORS' COACH

Victory For Bishops' Would Create First-Place Tie With McGill

HARRY GRIFFITHS, former McGill football and hockey star, who is now connected with Bishops' College at Lennoxville leads his proteges into town this morning for their loop. The game will be played at the scheduled meeting with McGill in the intermediate intercollegiate hockey Forum at 1:30 this afternoon.

Bishop's Strong
Bishop's, after a setback at the hands of Loyola in their first game of the season came through with a sparkling 5-1 victory over U. of M. last Saturday to definitely rule out any rumors that they are the weak sister in the league. Coach Griffiths has a husky band of youngsters under his wing and they have responded to his coaching in no uncertain manner. They have a wealth of speed at their command, which coupled with plenty of staying power proved the deciding factor in their game with U. of M. as they were able to take advantage of the breaks that occurred when the French students opened up in the final period in an effort to overcome Bishop's one goal lead.

Charlie Letourneau and his hard hitting band will have Ned Elwood back in their ranks for this afternoon's game. Elwood sustained a bad cut over the mouth that required several stitches Saturday night in the game against Loyola and was unable to take part in Monday night's game with U. of M. Bill Tait another absentee from the week-end games will probably be on hand also Don Boyd, who is as yet ineligible for intercollegiate play will be on the sidelines this trip.

Hope to Win
With two successive wins to their credit and only one loss chalked up against them in nine engagements the McGill team is hoping to continue its success at the expense of the Lennoxville students. A win will give McGill six points and a firm grip on first place in the standing, while a loss will give Bishop's the necessary two points needed to move into a first place tie with the Redmen. At present Loyola and Bishop's are tied with two points each while McGill have two wins. U. of M. have played one game which they lost and are thus holding down the cellar position.

R. V. C. PUCKSQUAD MEETS BISHOPS' IN INITIAL ENCOUNTER

A LONG with the Bishops' boys ice squad which plays the Red inter-mediate this afternoon came a team of girl pucksters who will also see action at 2:00 p.m. today when they meet the R.V.C. sextette at the Mount Royal Arena. The Lennoxville ladies are smarting from a 7-0 defeat which the McGill co-eds handed them on the formers' own stamping grounds last year, and they are determined to eradicate the loss. This will mark the visitors' first appearance in local ice circles.

Coach Kenny Farmer, of the Redwomen, reports a strong squad all set to repel the invaders, and he sees no reason why his charges shouldn't repeat their fine victory of last season. This year's edition features those efficient goal-gatherers Babe Goulding and Edith Walbridge, along with several new freshies who have all the earmarks of fine performers.

Visitors' Unknown
Little is known as to the visitors' propensity for denting the twine, but it is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of the free admission facilities to yell themselves hoarse for the fair ice performers. Heretofore, the women haven't had much in the way of support at their games, but with the added attraction afforded by the Bishops' girls, the spectators should be out in full force.

The line-up:
Goal: Janet Clouston.
R. def: Jean Buchanan.
L. def: Babs Goulding.
R. wing: Ruth Schnebly.
L. wing: Ruth Russell.
Subs: Cary Horner, Beverly Hughes, Janet Stevenson.

Crawford.....wing.....Roberts
McGill subs: Caraley, McDuff, Tait, Calder, Gorman.
Bishop's subs: McHard, Besset, Nichol, Labaree, Bissonet.

ed. However, he had undergone a change when he wrote "Moby Dick," one of the great American classics. Melville was a man of few friends, which was his regret in life. He idolized Hawthorne, who failed him at every turn. He gained fame by a hard path, and deserves all the praise he has received.

Henry Thoreau was a plain craftsman of strong beliefs. His craft was nature study and his strongest belief was the injustice of slavery. His "Journals" hold a great store of nature and Indian lore, which he gathered at first hand; he wrote and spoke against slavery, and wrote "John Brown's Body" in memory of the anti-slavery agitator. Consumption claimed him in middle age.

George Gissing

George Gissing was a gloomy man. Orphaned early, he was poor all his life. This was partly from choice, as he could have made a comfortable living by tutoring, but he chose to write instead. He had a tendency to marry below his class, although he improved with age, first marrying a bewd, then a servant and lastly a middle-class French-woman. All this experience authorized him to write his "On Women." "New Grub Street" is full of his typical gloom and poverty. He had no real knowledge of human nature.

Lastly, the speaker dealt with Samuel Butler. This man is held by many, including Bernard Shaw, to be the father of modern satire. Brought up by Victorian parents, he experienced all the most horrible modes of teaching of that era, and was able to write humorously on them. His best-known work is "The Way of All Flesh."

The speaker concluded with a generalization on lives and works of the five authors.

lar campus orchestra will be up to date in every way.

Tempting Supper

At mid-night a tempting supper will be served in the piazza. The decorations will be of a true collegiate nature, featuring the McGill colors. Representatives of the Newman Club of Toronto and Queen's will attend the dance Friday night and judging from past experience and the present sale of tickets there is no doubt concerning the success of the dance.

All Catholic students at McGill are especially urged to attend as this is their one big social event of the year and it receives the support of prominent citizens throughout Montreal.

Representatives

Tickets may be secured from representatives of the various faculties: Medicine, James O'Neill; Engineering, Thos. Mullins; Law, George Broderick; Commerce, W. O'Connor; Dentistry, Ivan Gullbord; Arts, Arthur Styles.

This year's "At Home" is under the chairmanship of Kenneth McNamee, E. O'Connor, and Charles Whelan. The remainder of the committee consists of Patricia Conroy, Elizabeth Power, Louis Quinn and John Nolan.

no new thing. Such a group is to be found at every school of music to give the students an opportunity to study both playing in an ensemble, as well as the works of composers for many voices or instruments. An orchestra had been part of the McGill Conservatorium curriculum until very recently, when through one reason and another it was allowed to relapse. Last year, due to the efforts of Dean Douglas Clarke, of the Faculty of Music, it was decided to reorganize the orchestra and to place it under the direction of R. deH. Tupper, the secretary of the Faculty.

The first concert of this revived orchestra took place at the Hall of the Royal Victoria College, and was claimed very successful. The entire complement of strings, winds and percussions took part in this first appearance, with the program offering full symphonic works, as well as parts of some of the best known concertos with the shining examples of the Faculty as soloists. The second concert took place at the same place this session, with the strings alone functioning. It offered a program so satisfying to the audience that was present, that comment upon it was filled only with the highest of praise.

Satisfied with the reception that was given the Conservatorium orchestra at its first two concerts, the director has decided to present the orchestra in a few concerts during the coming weeks. Firstly, an appearance will be made at the next of the Saturday afternoon recitals in Tudor Hall this coming weekend. At this concert, the program that was given at the R.V.C. will be repeated entirely, to enable those who could not attend, an opportunity to hear this group in the numbers in which it has once already been so successful.

The Orchestra is slated to appear

Self-Support

At least one student of the University of Nebraska works part-time in almost every business and professional office in the city of Lincoln.

Rebellion

Freshmen at Queens University recently declared open rebellion against the regulations set up by the sophomores requiring the first-year men to wear bibs and aprons sold by the men of 1936. The revolt, however, soon was subdued by the arrival of increasing numbers of sophs, who forced the unruly fresh jack from the stadium they had stormed into the gymnasium.

Colon Day

The University of Alabama Spanish students celebrated Columbus Day on Oct. 21. It was on that day, and not on Oct. 12, that Cristobal Colon really reached the western end of his trip, according to an Alabama statistician. In support of his contention, he points out that eleven days were dropped out in September, 1491, when the revised calendar was adopted. Washington's birthday occurred on Feb. 11, O. S., he maintained.

ABQPDQ

Realizing that a large number of students enter the university just to get by, Prof. M. F. Gaudin of Colorado would propose two degrees for arts colleges. For those people who just get by, he would continue to grant A.B.s.

Many others, however, do greatly superior work

Ping Pong Leads Sports

Some of the hardy old Kansas pioneers who thought that shooting Indians was good sport and that shaving was effeminate must be squirming in their graves. For we learn from the University Daily Kansan that 51 per cent of the men at the University of Kansas prefer ping pong as a sport, in preference to football, basketball, and the rest of the he-men sports.

Even 23 per cent of the women have aspirations of becoming champion ping pong players. Can it be imagined that soon the hero of the campus will be the king of the ping pongers?

What could be sweeter than an evening of music about the fireside, toasting your toes, or burning holes in your socks? Evidently university students have an idea that this is a pleasant time destroyer, for it tied with hiking for sixth place as a social activity.

To complete the activities listed in order of preference, dancing ranked first, then ping pong, a social hour, discussion groups, formal dinners, old time social mixer, an evening of literature about the fireside, games, tea, and a campfire evening.

Chess, that game of master minds, ended in the cellar.

Good suggestion, professor, and how about an A.B.Q. degree P.D.Q.?

Tutors

Freshmen women at the University of Alabama who need additional instruction in their studies will be coached by senior women who are leading in scholarship. This is the first time such a project has been attempted there.

Can't you just imagine co-ed Caroline Hochut giving up a date to teach fresh Minnie McGilluddy Horner's method for solving equations? But perhaps they do things differently in the good old Southland.

Caboosers

Thirty students of the University of North Dakota are pursuing their scholastic work while living, eating, and studying in railway cabooses. They get along very well for $2 a week in the six cabooses, which the university purchased and put at their disposal rent free. In lieu of rent, each student spends four hours a week working for the university.

The camp was established to furnish cheap lodgings for students unable to pay ordinary expenses. Occupants have their own self-governing association, using the proctor system, and electing their own officers.

Criminals

A University of California psychologist says that when college men go in for crime, they become either masters at larceny or forgery because these occupations require less physical exertion.

Widow

Complaining that she had been a "football widow" too long, Mrs. Ethel Sanford, whose husband, Clyde, coach, professional football team at Needles, Calif., filed a suit for divorce in Chicago. The coach, she said, dreamed and talked about football all the time. Once, she added, he gave her a dollar and said, "Now I want my half back."

In closing the speaker stated that if the student is put into geological work, he should not get drawn away from the vocation for which he was trained.

during the early days of training. Like all other local units it was not long until the unit proceeded to Valsartier where it quickly gained because of its excellence and efficiency, the name "Canadian Exhibitionary Force."

Season at Valsartier

Lieut. Brown then explained how after a season at Valsartier the unit sailed from Halifax reaching Liverpool, 950 strong on October 6th. But in England it was felt that there was too great a concentration of potential officers in one unit and the Battalion was broken up to provide reinforcements for other Montreal units already in the field.

About this time colours were presented to the battalion by Mrs. Gavin Ogilvie. These were properly escorted and placed later in the Redpath Library where they hang until this day.

In closing the speaker pointed out that as a result of the engagements participated in by men of the 148th, the McGill Corps, which now perpetuates the 148th, has a right to carry on the colours six battle honours. These are "Arras '17 and '18;" "Hill 70;" "Ypres 1917;" "Amiens;" "Hindenburg Line;" "Pursuit to Mons."

'You Can't Win' Proved Again

Boston, Mass.—The winner pays to the last cent, and the loser takes it all. This paradox is explained by Albert J. Dow, associate professor of science and mathematics at C. B. A. The story concerns two young men who engage in a game of chance. One of them has a hundred dollars on his person, and in order that he might not lose everything, he reserves 50 per cent of his fortune and bets the other half.

After a number of bets he observes that he is winning on the average of three out of every five attempts. Spurred on by this supposedly good fortune he continues to bet half of his assets. To his amazement at the end of 28 tries he has no money left; his opponent, who lost 60 per cent of the time, has won it all.

Probably you are skeptical to believe such an illegal conclusion. If you can bear a little mathematical analysis the haze will be lifted, and it will be obvious that the gambler who won most of the time, pays.

To review the facts: the player has $100; he bets 50 per cent of the money that he possessed at the beginning of each bet; he wins 60 per cent of the time; and in 28 ventures he loses everything.
